Erica Graves is a litigation associate at Larson O'Brien LLP. Her practice focuses on complex commercial litigation and white collar criminal defense. Ms. Graves' experience includes litigating trademark, copyright, and patent disputes, as well as the False Claims Act, environmental matters, contract and business torts, and catastrophic wrongful death cases. She has also conducted internal investigations regarding an array of issues.

Ms. Graves graduated, cum laude, from Pepperdine University School of Law where she was a member of the Order of the Coif and served as the Managing Editor of Pepperdine Law Review. While in law school, Ms. Graves also served as a judicial extern to Justice Eileen Moore of the California Court of Appeal. Ms. Graves completed her undergraduate studies at the University of Melbourne, Australia, earning a Bachelor's of Science degree, focusing on immunology and microbiology.

Prior to attending law school, Ms. Graves worked at various wineries in California's Napa Valley, including Kongsgaard Wine, where she led the sales and distribution teams for some of California's most celebrated wines.
